For the "We ConnAct" dimension of the "Climate-Walk" project, we are still looking for dedicated Co-Wanderers-to-be who can imagine helping to shape the public appearance of our project for 5-10 hours a week. Depending on personal interests and background, this can include press and media work, design of our social media presence, customer design of our platforms.

What do we offer:

- Exciting, varied and meaningful work in an interdisciplinary team
- Free time management and flexibility in collaboration
- Opportunity to bring your own interests and creativity into the project and actively help shape it
- Opportunity to learn new soft and hard skills (handling of technical equipment, storytelling, communication and coordination of and with cooperation partners)
- Permission to use the jointly collected data for your own bachelor's/master's/doctoral thesis
- Prospect of long-term collaboration in the project
- New contacts and networks for future collaborations
- Confirmation of whether you are working in a legally recognized non-profit association (e.g. in the form of receipt of an internship confirmation or a job reference)

The following points would be advantageous (or the motivation for learning it):

- Individual initiative and an independent way of working
- Experience with
 - Canvas
 - Photoshop, InDesign
 - Mojo
 - Adobe Premiere Pro and other video editing programs
- Technical (basic) knowledge of handling cameras and microphones
- Social media competence in the areas of Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, LinkedIn and TikTok
- Research activity
- Interested in the various pillars of the project Different language skills are an advantage

Areas of responsibility (depending on interests and division within the team):

- Creation of social media posts
- Video editing & photo editing
- Contacting the media
- Public relations in cooperation with the other teams
- Processing of the main content of the project for social media
